Booksurge Publishing, United States, 2009. Paperback. Book Condition: New. 203 x 133 mm. Language: English . Brand New Book  Print on Demand .This book explains how the very valuable and necessary institutions of higher education, psychiatry, government, law enforcement, the media, big business, the legal profession, and insurance have evolved into family killers. These institutions have evolved to take so many of the families resources such as their money, fertility, and freedom that families are withering and dying in a few generations. They do this primarily by replacing pro-family values and morals with anti-family values. The most vulnerable families are those most needed to continue our modern society: the educable, the intelligent, the most productive, and the wealthy. Extinguishing of these traits from humankind will eventually render humanity incapable of maintaining a modern industrialized society. The book tells how the rules governing these institutions need to be change so that they evolve to strengthen the family and reverse this extinction. If you care about your family read this book.
