Instead of telling them that sex-impulse was a thing of which every good boy or girl should be ashamed, and should be promptly stifled whenever awakened, we should tell them the truth; and that is that it is a God-given propensity in which it is the right of every son and daughter of Adam to glory and rejoice; but there is a right and wrong way to its proper use or abuse. We should tell the young man that the mere fact that he is occasionally disturbed by lascivious dreams is of itself no cause for uneasiness; that it is simply an evidence of virility, and that if lie will only exercise reasonable restraint upon his thoughts and actions during waking hour, his sleep visitors will do him no harm. Instead of sternly lecturing them to the effect that every truly good boy or girl is simply an animated block of wood, and that their sex-teeth should be without edge when we well knew their forebears had consumed whole vineyards of sour grapes, let us tell them plainly that having been through it ourselves we are in position to know that each and every one of them is a live wire in every sense of the word, that we rejoice with them that they are so and would not have them otherwise, but...
