Excerpt: .his own custody, whether in his compartment or elsewhere, and luggage consists of parcels and packages. The next contention was that section 72 of the Act makes the Company liable as a bailee under the Indian Contract Act. The presence in the section of the words subject to the other provisions of this Act adequately meets this contention which has no force. The next contention was that Currency Notes are not included in the second schedule to the Act. Clause (b) of the schedule, in my opinion, covers them. They are promises to pay, made by a person on behalf of the Government of India, although they are not included in the definition of Proznissary Note in section 4 of the Negotiable Instruments Act for the purposes of that Act. 10th Nov. 1906.
