Forgotten Books, United States, 2015. Paperback. Book Condition: New. 229 x 152 mm. Language: English . Brand New Book ***** Print on Demand *****.Excerpt from Means of Providing Cheap Food I would urge in the strongest manner upon all Landlords, for their own sakes, the wisdom and prudence of having as many shops as possible opened, - so as to enable the Labourers to purchase food near their Homes or Works. The principle of a quick return and small profit, with cash dealings, should be insured by a sufficient competition every where. Three Half-pence per stone, on one ton of meal, is a pound per ton, gain. Not only meal but every other article suited for food should be provided at these shops. Fifty Pounds would be quite a sufficient capital to set up such a shop, which could be had from any of the banks on bill, the interest to be a charge against profit, until the shopkeeper could realise the requisite capital. One and a half ton of meal, turned in each week, would gain, (at three half-pence per stone profit, ) Seventy-eight pounds a year, which in itself would pay a person for his time in keeping such a shop. The stock to consist of - meal of each kind, a proportion; American pork and cheese; patent cocoa; chillies (for seasoning instead of pepper); split peas; rice; Scotch barley; and coarse sugar. Receipts for making a variety of broths, cocoa, c., should be hung up in each shop, and distributed. Green grocers shops are strongly recommended. For turnips, One Pound per ton is a remunerative price, and Two Pounds for carrots or parsnips. Cabbages, onions, c., add much not only to the substance, but also to the wholesome quality of the mess. Peas form a most strengthening...
